Dear parents of KS2 children

E-safety: Important message

It has come to the school's attention today that a large number of KS2 children (Y3,4,5,6) are using an on-line app/programme called 'Musical.ly' during out of school hours. Whilst the app itself appears to be innocent enough, sadly a large number of children have not adjusted the settings to 'private', so are making personal and private information such as dates of birth, very public. In addition, some of them are leaving abusive messages/clips which are hurtful and available to all. This is obviously upsetting, disconcerting and unacceptable.

As previously, I urge you to monitor your child's online activity carefully, and reinforce the e-safety messages and teaching we deliver here at school, in order to help keep children safe. There are a wealth of e-safety resources and much advice on our school website, and further copies are available in school of the 'Digital Parenting' magazine we subscribe to on your behalf, and distributed to every child last term.

I hope the above information is of use, and that we continue to work together to safeguard all children.

Yours sincerely

J B Wallace
